

SECTOR: ALCOHOLIC DRINKS

Corporate & brand communications quarterly report

The Alcoholic Drinks sector was worth more than $1,500 billion in 2020. A dozen or so companies accounted for more than $160 billion of this amount.

Beer giants ABInBev, Carlsberg, Heineken, Asahi and Molson Coors. Spirits producers Diageo, LVMH, Pernod Ricard, Brown-Forman, Bacardi, Bece, Constellation Brands, Suntory and William Grant. Wine & liqueur companies: E&J Gallo, Concha Y Toro, Casella Family Brands, Campari and many spirits producers with a toe in wine and liqueurs.

Consumers, investors and governments expect genuine action on sustainability from companies: their impact on the environment and social concerns, as well as, ensuring the necessary governance to safeguard a sustainable future. It is essential for brands to place their sustainability activities firmly in the hearts and minds of their customers and develop the right communications channel to promote them.

For more information, contact

Carol Mason

VP, Growth

carol@susmon.com

Our research and analysis gives you a detailed view of the leading players in this sector and their sustainability communication strategy at corporate brand level:

- claims and brand positioning
- which brands are aligning with which initiatives
- volume of activity on social platforms
- how they rank against each other

Armed with SusMon's Alcoholic Drinks sector report, you will be easily able to understand the priorities of the key players. Those in the market can identify competitor threats, spot opportunities and develop a differentiated social strategy.

Deploying a social-first strategy, brands are entering into two-way conversations with consumers on a wide range of sustainability topics, from local social initiatives to leadership at the corporate brand level.

Available Reports

For individual subscribers, reports are delivered in PDF format:

Alcoholic Drinks Sector Corporate & Brand

Communications Quarterly Report - $1,500 per quarter

For enterprise access, reports are available to download across your organization via a login to our reports database. Please contact us for more info.

Sustainability
Monitor